CALL TO ALL WOMEN*

WOMEN'S STRIKE

FEMINIST
STRIKE

In Switzerland as in many countries, we demonstrate for equality, and against sexism and discrimination. But today we want to go further. We want a women's strike, a feminist strike on 14th June 2019.

We are fed up with waiting. It has been 37 years since the introduction of a constitutional article on equality. For 22 years, we have had a law on equality, but still our salaries are lower and remain quite often pitiful. Many of us work part-time because we still provide two thirds of domestic, educational and care work. Because we do the cleaning, cooking and washing, and we look after the children, grandchildren, and our ill and elderly relatives. This work is not paid, although it produces wealth and Switzerland could not function without it. Our work must be valued!

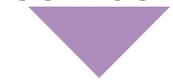

We are fed up with sexism and all forms of violence. Equality means living without the fear of being attacked, working without the fear of being harassed. It means going home without the fear of being abused. It means respecting our bodies and our lives, putting an end to all violence against women* and recognising our right to decide by and for ourselves.

We want a society based on equality and solidarity, without discrimination, without sexism and violence against women*, regardless of the colour of our skin, our culture, our origin or religion, our passport, our sexual and gender identity, our age or social status.

This is why we will be on strike on 14th June 2019.

Our strike will be global. Our strike will be global. It will take place at workplaces and at home. Each and every one of us will do as much as they can, whether this means refusing to work, disrupting instead of cleaning, occupying public space day and night! Our strike is not against men, but against a patriarchal system that has run its course. On 14th June 2019, solidary men will be invited to support the women* on strike.
